

Dear Team

I am applying for the Omnichannel Activation VM Execution role within the adidas Emerging Markets South team.

VM execution is where I have spent the majority of my career. At Brunello Cucinelli I managed visual merchandising across 13 retail boutiques and 25 wholesale accounts on the West Coast of the United States — delivering seasonal installations, translating global campaign priorities into store-level execution, maintaining brand standards across a multi-door network, and training store teams and VM champions on execution consistency. At Suitsupply I held the Regional VM Manager role across 6 West Coast stores, managing floor planning, product presentation, seasonal launches and weekly store visits across the network.

I understand both macro and micro VM. I know what it takes to walk into a store, identify the gaps, and get them corrected. I also understand the commercial side — using sell-through data and category performance to inform VM decisions and align presentation with business priorities.

I am a South African citizen based in Cape Town, I hold a valid driver's licence, and I am comfortable with the travel requirements of the role. The adidas brand and the EM South market is exactly where I want to be.
